A Ballad of the Town.

O the wind is cold and the soot falls free! The cheeks are pinched and the nose is nipt, And the staid man howleth "O hully gee!" As off the pavement his feet are slipt. In the alley back of the boarding house; The snow melts in the reception hall, And the cat in a nightmare sees a mouse.

The plumber dreams of a palace fine, With pipes of glass that forever burst But wakes with a start and a fear condign That the coal man will have got there first. For coal is scarce and the price is high, And fires must burn and that is sure; And prices soar to the smoky sky At every drop of the temperature,

Then, ho! for the city, its joyous life,

Its push and go and its microbe air. And ho! for its strenuous, sturdy strife When the motorman slugs the passengair! Hurrah for the plumber! hurrah for the cook! Hurrah for the smoke inspector, too! Hurrah for the mayor! hurrah for the crook-And the Lord have mercy on me and you! -St. Louis Globe Democrat.

PHENOMENAL EARNINGS OF THE BIG FOUR LINES FOR JANUARY.

bilt Lines-Severe Weather on the Indianapolis Railways.

The Big Four lines proper earned in the crease over the corresponding week of 1901 of $56,470.45. The total earnings of January were $1,429.831.25, an increase over January, 1901, of $78,990.76, making the best earnings of any January in the road's history, and this in spite of much unfavorable weather and trouble to furnish cars.

The Peoria & Eastern earned the fourth week of January $67,130.16, a decrease as compared with the corresponing week of 1901 of $5,866.87; for January the line earned $202,721.28, a decrease of $16,894.21 as compared with January, 1901. Had the company been able to furnish cars the earnings would have been large beyond precedent.

Changes on the Vanderbilt Lines.

Those well informed concerning the affairs of the Vanderbilt lines express the opinion that J. K. Russell, superintendent of the Toledo division, will be selected general superintendent, vice A. H. Smith, transferred to the New York Central. Further changes are looked for on the Vanderbilt lines. So far as President W. H. Newman is concerned, the Vanderbilt people speak of him as being the strongest man than has ever been president of the Central, and the same officials say they hold Grammar, general traffic manager of the Lake Shore, in the highest esteem. One goes so far as to say that before the changes are completed Mr. Grammar will be vice president and general traffic manager of all Vanderbilt lines, the Big Four excepted. In speaking of Mr. Blodgett returning to the Lake Shore as its general manager, the Cleveland Leader quotes him as saying: "Your little old New York may be all right, but give me Cleveland. It is my home, my friends are there and I have NOTICE—Fire escapes, iron fences, gratings, been lonely since I came here a year ago."
window guards, etc. ORNAMENTAL IRON Mr. Newman knew that Mr. Blodgett his family has never moved. He also knew the new post, since he has done everything there is to be done on a railroad, in an operating way, and has done it well. He came to Cleveland from the Burlington and had previously filled some of the most responsible operating positions upon it. Mr. Brown was decided upon, therefore, for the New York post and Mr. Blodgett was sent back to Cleveland. This latter decision had another phase to it also. A. H. Smith was supposed to be in line for the work here, but Mr. Smith is only ten months off of a division, and, therefore, hardly seasoned enough as yet to take up such a post as general manager of the Lake Shore. He is, however, exactly the man for the New York Central, especially since he can have for his immediate superior the schooled veteran which Mr. Brown is. Mr. Smith is looked upon as one of the coming railroad lights of the country, and while the elevation to the New York Central was a stunning surprise to some of the railroad men, his length of service in the Lake Shore post being considered, they nevertheless express been twenty-seven years on the Lake Shore and until ten years ago was no higher on the ladder than bridge carpenter. It was then, however, that he began to show some

sion men the Lake Shore ever had. Personal, Local and General Notes. H. C. Ferris, special engineer of the Toledo & Ohio Central, has resigned to ac-
